As Chief Executive Officer, Phil collaborates with our leaders to create an evolving, ambitious vision for Little that motivates our people and creates a competitive advantage for our clients. He is responsible for maintaining a culture of empowered people who are enthusiastic collaborators and who are great at using their imaginations. He also ensures that people at Little are deeply involved in volunteer leadership and pro bono activity in our communities, and that we are using our talents as designers to do our part in creating a better future for people.

Phil is active in the AIA CEO Large Firm Round Table and has served as an AIA Charlotte Board member. His current and past community leadership includes President of the Catawba Lands Conservancy, Board Member and Chairman of the Mecklenburg County United Way campaign and Chairman of the AEC Division of the Arts & Science Council.

A 30-year veteran of the practice, Phil earned his Bachelor of Science in Design and Master of Architecture from Clemson University. He has been a featured speaker at numerous conferences, including the AIA National Convention and INC Magazine's CEO Symposium, and has served on multiple AIA Design Award juries.
